Viewer Preferences

The ViewerPreferences entry in a document's catalogue designates a viewer preferences dictionary (PDF 1.2) controlling the way the document shall be presented on the screen or in print. If no such dictionary is specified, conforming readers should behave in accordance with their own current user preference settings.